Bomb Threat Empties an Auditorium

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More than 4,000 Negroes and white persons sang "Onward Christian Soldiers" as they marched out of the auditorium at Fisk University in Nashville, Tenn., because of an anonymous bomb threat.

Police, firemen and ambulances stood by at the Negro college. The orderly evacuation occurred shortly before an address by the Rev.
Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, a Negro integration leader active in the 11-week-old campaign against segregated lunch counters in the South.

Police Inspector W. P. Donoho said the bomb threat was telephoned to police headquarters Wednesday night. The auditorium was searched. No bomb was found, however, and the audience returned.

King told the group, "Segregation is on its death bed now and the only uncertain thing about it is the day it will be buried."

The bomb-threat incident happened the day after a dynamite blast shattered the home of Z.
Alexander Looby, a Nashville city councilman and lawyer who has defended several students arrested in sit-down demonstrations.
Looby and his wife escaped injury.

Meanwhile, sit-down demonstrations spread to Beaumont, Tex., for the first time and there was court action and scattered demonstrations in other parts of the racially tense South.

Negro students, 13 coeds and 9
youths from Lamar Tech College, an integrator state educational institution, demonstrated at two downtown Beaumont lunch counters.

At Marshall, Tex., the first of 57
Negro college students arrested during a singing, praying demonstration was convicted by a white jury and fined $400. Attorneys indicated they would appeal. The March 30 demonstration was broken up when fire hoses were turned on the students.

BY LAND AND SEA—While motorists complain about traffic jams, the boating trade arrives at the Giants' brand new Candlestick Park, via a specially-built pier in San Francisco Bay.

TRIBUTE TO WOMEN—American womanhood will be honored in this new four-cent stamp which will be placed on sale June 8. It pays tribute to American women "who give so much to the social, economic and spiritual life of our nation." Niches around a picture of a mother and daughter denote contributions of women in civic affairs, arts, industry and education.

were blinded by a snowstorm late Tuesday and lost their way. They dug a snow cave above timberline to wait out the storm. She said Willmon was suffering from extreme frostbite—his skin feeling swollen. The girl said she and Jones set out at different time intervals to seek help.

Weather in the region today was clear with temperatures about 35.
There was virtually no wind.
Miss Bendixen, who lives at Davenport, Iowa, staggered into the home of N. L. Sutherland at Allens Park, 12 miles south of here.

Park authorities said the trio ignored "trail closed" signs on an outing that began Monday.

James A. Greig, 21, of Glenview, Ill., another student, had been with the group but became ill and turned back. He reported the others missing Monday night.
The missing youths have had mountain-climbing experience and are either members of, or associated with, the Rocky Mountain Rescue Group from Boulder.

College Awards Are Passed Out

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

The Harding College Bison and the Fort Smith Junior College Collegian were named yesterday as the top winners in the annual newspaper contest of the Arkansas College Publications Assn.

The Collegian received the general excellence trophy and the Bison won the sweepstakes award.

Awards were presented last night at a banquet at which R. T.
Bentley Jr., general manager of the Southwest Publishing Co. at Fort Smith and Arkansas Press
Assn. vice president, spoke.

The ACPA held its annual convention at College of the Ozarks
here.

Arkansas Tech's Arkla-Tech and Little Rock University's Chatter-box tied for second in the general excellence contest.

counter demonstration at Florence, S.C., were convicted in City Court and sentenced to 30 days in jail or a fine of $30 each.

Attorneys filed notice of appeal.

A group of Negro and white University of Texas students warned Austin merchants to desegregate lunch counters in a week or take the consequences.

At Savannah, Ga., a shotgun-armed guard was posted near the Candler Hospital's nurses home as a deterrent to further outbreaks of violence in the area.

Negroes and white youths clashed at nearby Forsyth Park Monday night, using switch-blade knives and handles and lead pipes. Four were injured.

At Portland, Ore., three young Negroes accused of beating white men out of sympathy for Negroes in South Africa and the U.S.
South, were given jail sentences.

Part of U. S. Going on Saving Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

About 50 per cent of the nation's timepieces will be pushed ahead one hour at 2 a.m. Sunday with the annual switch to Daylight Saving Time promising to stir up no less confusion than it has in past years.

Most of the estimated 91 million Americans who will avail themselves of an extra hour of daylight through the summer will return to Standard Time at the end of October.

Some areas, however, will turn their clocks back near the end of September, while at least a couple plan to remain on Daylight Time for the balance of the year.

The nation's two newest states
—Hawaii and Alaska—will continue on Standard Time through the summer.

The knotty problems arise for those thousands of persons who reside in one area of a state which observes a different time than a nearby area where they work or attend school.

Residents of Texas, Kansas,
Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona,
Utah and Oklahoma need not worry about any time mixups because those states operate on Standard
Time the year round.

The eastern two-fifths of Indiana, including Indianapolis and Fort Wayne, will face no problems with the advent of D.S.T.
Residents there observed Daylight Time all winter by unofficial agreement contrary to state law.

Central Kentucky residents were on Central Daylight Saving Time year-round for several years, until a recent Interstate Commerce Commission order put the area in the Eastern Standard Time zone.

This left the clocks the same as
on Central Daylight Saving Time.

Among those states where plans call for an incomplete swing to Daylight Time by local option are Ohio, Virginia, Pennsylvania,
Iowa, West Virginia and Missouri.

All of Florida except Eglin Air Force Base will remain on Standard Time.

Washington and Oregon will continue to observe mandatory Standard Time.

Among the states where Daylight Saving Time will be observed without exception are California, Wisconsin, Minnesota, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Maine, Illinois, New Jersey and Rhode Island. Washington, D.C.
also will operate on Daylight Time.

Other top catches were: White bass, James McGraw, Mountain
Pine, 3 pound 6 ounces; crappie, David Coulson, Hot Springs, 2 pounds 5 1/2 ounces; smallmouth black bass, Charles Mackey, Hot Springs, 2 pounds 4 ounces and a string of 10 broom and blue gill Vermon Bales, 6 pounds 7 ounces.

Some 2,500 persons visited a Fishing, Boating and Sports Show held for the first time this year in conjunction with the Derby.

GOP Thinks Party Is Suffering

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some Republicans talked of their party suffering for lack of a battle while Democrats gave new signs today of battling from now until July.

One likely hassle at the Democratic National Convention — the civil rights platform — drew attention Wednesday with the selection of Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut as platform chairman.

A second likely hassle — the naming of a presidential candidate — draws attention today as three hopefuls make major speeches before the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington.
Bowles, a former governor of Connecticut and ambassador to day, pounding out a 15-4 baseball victory over Arkansas State. The Irish clubbed the Indians 17-3 in a game Tuesday.

Notre Dame has won eight straight games this season. Arkansas state is 6-10.

A seven-run second inning was the big frame for the Irish.

India, is considered an advocate of a strong civil rights platform.
He has been acting as foreign policy advisor to Sen. John F.
Kennedy of Massachusetts, a candidate for the nomination.

Besides picking Bowles, the convention's arrangements committee, meeting in Los Angeles, named a Westerner and a South-erner as co-chairmen of the credentials committee.

They are Calvin W. Rawlings of Salt Lake City, not known as an extreme crusader of civil rights and Camille F. Gravel of Alexandria, La., a Southern moderate on the race question.

In Washington, three Democratic candidates, Kennedy, Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, are taking advantage of a forum offered by the ASNE.

Kennedy, whose Catholic religion is considered an issue in the West Virginia primary, plans to stress that a man's church should have nothing to do with his nomination or election.

Symington plans to discuss the future course of America while Humphrey intends to demonstrate to the nation's editors that he has as good a chance as the next candidate to snare the nomination.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas had to leave the forum to his rivals because of previous commitments for vote prospecting in Colorado, Wyoming and Utah.

More than 76 million nickels are produced each year in the U. S.
Mini in Denver.

McCormick Hurls Dodgers Out of 1st Place

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Mike McCormick, after warming up on the Philadelphia Phillies for two years, seems ready to start cutting loose against the rest of the National League.

The young left-hander knocked off Los Angeles with a two-hit, 1-0 decision Wednesday that hoisted the San Francisco Giants back into a first place tie with the Dodgers.

Cincinnati, breaking up a tie with five runs after two were out in the 10th inning, rapped the Milwaukee Braves 10-5, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated Philadelphia 4-2 in the only other NL games scheduled.

In the American League, Detroit made it two straight over Cleveland, winning 6-4 on home runs by Al Kaline and ex-Indians Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash. Boston won its first, spilling New York out of a first place tie in the only other game scheduled.

McCormick, a one-time $65,000 bonus baby but now an old hand in his fifth season at 21, faced only 29 men. He gave up his only walk to leadoff man Jim Gilliam, retired 15 in a row before Maury Wills singled in the sixth. Gil Hodges got the other Dodger single in the seventh.

The Giants were held to five singles by Don Drysdale. Two of the hits, by Willie Kirkland and Don Blasingame, got the run across in the fifth.

Roy McMillan, who was 5-for-6 and drove in five runs, carried the fight through eight innings with a pair of homers for the Reds and then slapped a two-run single as they went ahead with three in the ninth. A pinch single by Ray Boone gave the Braves a tie in the ninth, but rookie Tony Gonzalez got the Reds rolling with a two-out single that cracked it in the 10th.

Don McMahon (1-1) lost it while Paul Sanchez picked up his first decision after cutting down Milwaukee's ninth-inning rally by getting Joe Adcock on a ground out with the bases loaded.

Right-hander Vern Law won his second for the Pirates. The Bucs, who scored one in the first on Don Hoak's single and a double by Bob Skinner, beat Don Cardwell (1-1) with Hoak's two-run homer in the fifth.

When to Fish or Hunt Solunar Tables
By John Alden Knight

The schedule of Solunar periods as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

The Major periods are shown in bold face type. These begin at the time shown and last for an hour and a half or two hours thereafter. The minor periods, shown in regular type, are of somewhat shorter duration.

Fullmer and Giardello Fight a Draw

By FRANK PITMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—Champion Gene Fullmer's NBA middleweight crown still rested on his scarred and bruised brow today after a tiring and dangerous slug and a butting duel with challenger Joey Giardello.

The officials ruled the wild, 15-round brawl Wednesday night a draw.

Giardello, a 3-to-1 underdog, chanted afterward "I'm the champion, I'm the champion!" Fullmer ignored Joey's claim.

ment of the church Saturday, April 23 beginning at 4 p.m. Ice cream will be sold.

Rev. Carter St. Marks' Speaker
Rev. B. W. Carter delivered the Easter sermon at St. Mark Baptist Church Sunday, April 17, at 3 p.m. Preceding the sermon, the Easter program was presented by the young people. Rocky, Kaline Paying Off for Indians, Tigers

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

If you're scoring the Cleveland-Detroit trades, give round two to the Tigers and at least a nod to Al Kaline.

It was Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash, a pair of ex-Indians, who brought Detroit from behind with homers, but it was Kaline who delivered the knockout punch for the second straight day as the Tigers clipped the Indians 6-4 Wednesday. Kaline's first 1960 home run cracked a 4-4 tie and triggered a two-run ninth.

With the defending champion Chicago White Sox (1-0) idle, that left Detroit (2-0) all alone atop the American League standings. The Boston Red Sox, winning their first on the third try, spilled the New York Yankees 7-1, and Washington dropped Baltimore 8-7 in the only other games scheduled in the AL.

San Francisco regained a first-place tie with Los Angeles in the National, beating the Dodgers 1-0. Cincinnati scored five runs with two out in the 10th for a 10-5 victory, made up for Tuesday's 0-9 loss to Philadelphia 4-2 in the other NL action.

Colavito, the fan favorite traded to Detroit Sunday for Harvey Kuenn, made up for Tuesday's 0-9 loss with a Tiger with a three-run homer that tied it in the fourth. Then Cash, exchanged for third baseman Steve Demeter two weeks ago, crashed a pinch homer for a 4-4 deadlock in the eighth.

The Tigers got their clinching two in the ninth when Kaline tagged the third homer off Jim Perry (0-1), a sophomore who never had lost to Detroit.

Tom Morgan won it, pitching a hitless eighth in relief of southpaw Don Mossi (yet another ex-Indian) who gave up four hits—all Cleveland got.

Right-hander Jerry Casale, who won his last five decisions as a rookie last season, made it six in a row with a five-hit job on the Yankees. He walked three, struck out eight and chipped in a two-run double as the Red Sox scored four in the second for a 5-0 lead against loser Bob Turley.

The Senators won their second when Billy Consolo tripled and Orel Hershiser singled in the eighth. Hershiser socked his first homer of the year in the fifth inning and then gave the Nats a 7-7 tie with a two-run single in the seventh. Tex Clevenger won it in relief. Rip Coleman lost it.

and said he'd never again fight the Philadelphia veteran who missed by a hair's breadth in his first title shot after 12 years in the ring.

"He doesn't deserve a rematch because of the way he butted me in the fourth round," Fullmer said. His manager, Mary Jensen, echoed the champion's stand.

"Sure, I butted him," Giardello said afterward in his dressing room, "but I only did it after he butted me."

Giardello's head-knocking followed Referee Harry Kessler's warning in the third round against butting.

Kessler, a St. Louis official, scored it 144-142 for Giardello. Judge Ray Evans of Butte, Mont., gave it to the champion 145-142. Judge Billy McFarland of Missoula, Mont., called it even at 145-145. The AP scored it 144-144 and even in rounds.

More than 12,000 fans who paid in excess of $110,000 crowded into the Montana State College fieldhouse for the nationally televised bout.

Economical Roast Is Dominate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The economical chuck roast dominates special offerings by supermarkets and neighborhood groceries this week.

But it has competition from many other cuts of beef, including higher priced round roasts and steaks.

The nation's cattle population is at an all-time high and feed lots are jammed as farmers step up feeding operations to use heavy supplies of corn from the big 1959 crop.

Prices of choice beef cuts remain high but the abundant supply indicates a drop may be coming when more cattle reach market.

Chickens are plentiful and markets in many areas are featuring them in weekend specials.

For seafood fanciers, scallops are in ample supply and are being advertised in some areas among the weekend bargains. Other selections being featured along the Eastern Seaboard are large shrimp, halibut and cod.

Egg prices continue to drop in most areas.

Best buys among vegetables include artichokes, snap beans, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, Florida-pascal celery, eggplant, escarole, Maine potatoes, old crop onions, spinach, mushrooms, and dandelion.

Good buys are asparagus, beets, cauliflower, endive, parsley, peas, new Texas onions, peppers, radishes, sweet potatoes, squash and cooking greens.

Best buys in fruits are bananas, grapefruit, oranges, pineapple and Chilean honeydews. Avocados and lemons are good buys.

Bootlegging Teacher

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—A grade school teacher at the Golden Pond community has been sentenced to 18 months in the federal reformatory for selling moonshine whiskey.

A jury took only a few minutes Tuesday to convict Mrs. Lee G. Wilson, 50.

Prescott News

Miss Purdie Feted

Miss Virginia Purdie, bride-elect of Dayton Silliman of Vernon, Texas, was feted by the licensed Practical Nurses in the home of Mrs. Tammie Horne on Thursday evening.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with a variety of spring flowers placed at vantage points. The honoree was presented a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Purdie opened her lovely gifts that were placed on a table. Frosted punch, nuts, minis and individual white cakes topped with rose buds were served from a table covered with a lace cloth over green.

Victory HD Club Meets With Mrs. Arthur Turner

The April meeting of the Victory Home Demonstration Club was held on Friday in the home of Mrs. Arthur Turner with Mrs. Kenneth Reeves assisting hostess. The rooms were decorated with arrangements of spring flowers.

Mrs. Dennis Hill, president, called the meeting to order and conducted the business. Mrs. Turner read the minutes and called the roll that was answered with my favorite breakfast and gave the treasurer's report in the absence of the secretary.

An inspiring Easter devotion was given by Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. L. C. Gallin conducted a Bible quiz.

Editors Told to Improve Performance

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors told the nation's press today it should improve its own performance if it expects full public support in breaking official secrecy barriers.

In a message prepared for the opening of the society's annual meeting here, J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post, reported some gains in ASNE's long battle against news suppression.

But he called on the society to take measures to strengthen itself as an organization worthy to represent "a profession that is in many ways, the most important in the country." He urged greater efforts by newspapers, individually and as an industry, to justify the faith and confidence of their readers.

The ASNE's convention provided a forum today for three Democratic presidential aspirants, Sens. John F. Kennedy (Mass.), Hubert H. Humphrey (Minn.) and Stuart Symington (Mo.).

Kennedy, originally scheduled to talk on America's stake in underdeveloped nations, changed the title of his luncheon address to "Religion and Politics."

There were indications that Humphrey, Kennedy's rival in the bitter West Virginia primary fight, might change the topic of his afternoon address at the last minute. He was scheduled to speak on

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Dewoody and Mr. and Mrs. Horace Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cash and children of Midland, Texas arrived Friday to spend the Easter weekend with his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Hays and other relatives in North Little Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and sons of Foreman visited relatives Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulan Hay and Linda spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Joe Jones.

Tour Meets With Arkansas Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A good-will tour from Shreveport, La., met Gov. Orval E. Faubus and local dignitaries yesterday.

The Louisiana delegation included 171 members of the Shreveport Chamber of Commerce.

After arriving by train, the visitors were luncheon guests of W. R. Stephens, president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co. Faubus joined them at the luncheon.

The Louisianans wore white Panama hats and black bow ties on which were written the words, "Holiday in Dixie." They came here from Memphis and will spend the night in Hot Springs. Tomorrow they will visit Texarkana before returning to Shreveport.

Mayor Clyde Fant of Shreveport and Mayor Mike Cameron of Bossier City, La., headed the delegation.

Allies Go Slow on Berlin Issue

QUEBEC (AP)—French President Charles de Gaulle arrived today for a 22-hour visit in this capital of Canada's predominantly French language province—once the seat of France's colonial empire in North America.

His Royal Canadian Air Force jet plane touched down from Ottawa at 11:15 a.m. in this historic and picturesque city.

Soviet-American relations, Symington's topic, later in the day, was the missile gap.

Friday a fourth Democratic nominee possibility, Adlai Stevenson, will speak on a panel labeled "The Opposition." Appearing with Stevenson, twice-defeated presidential candidate, will be Hugh Gaitskill, leader of Britain's Labor party, and Lester B. Pearson, head of Canada's Liberal party.

Republicans also will be heard from before the several hundred editors wind up their three-day meeting. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will address Saturday's luncheon. Sen. Thurston B. Morton (Ky.) Republican national chairman, will tell the society on Friday morning what a Republican Congress would do if the GOP captured control of Capitol Hill.

Widow Condemns Self for Lack of Understanding

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My husband suffered years from what the doctors called emotional disturbances. When he threatened, on several occasions, to take his own life, I took it as a sign of weakness and either chided him or told him to grow up.

He waged a constant battle against fear and depression. I now—when it is too late, understand his loneliness, his sleepless night and wish I had him back to help and love. There was no one else, really, in whom he could confide. I failed him.

His psychiatrist helped some but what he needed more than anything else was love and understanding from me. This he did not get. I am writing this so that other women will wake up before it is too late. Even though I am ashamed to sign my name, I trust that you will print this letter to your hundreds of thousands of readers to see.—R.A.L.

Dear R.A.L.: Yours is a gallant spirit. Don't be overhard on yourself. What's done is done. Heart-breaking though your experience was, it has given you a sense of compassion and understanding which can take you far. Pick up the pieces and go on.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am a boy 14 years old and have no place else to turn, so I had to write you. My dad and I constantly argue and fight. I really mean fight. For no reason at all he starts slugging me on the face and arms, stomach, any place he feels like. I can't stand it any more, my mother is dead and my dad has got all her money that she inherited from her dad, and he never works. What can I do?—M.W.L.

Dear M.W.L.: Go to the Ryther Child Center, 2400 East 95th Street, Seattle 15, Washington, at once. Tell your story in detail and ask for immediate help.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am about to marry a man I love very much. He is 23, I am his shoes. Presley compromised 21. We have postponed our wedding for a long time because his parents did not want him to marry outside his faith, but now he has decided to break with his family. Should I invite his parents to the wedding? His brother and sister?—Upset.

Dear Upset: Of course, you should invite them. You may expect a rebuff, perhaps a painful one. But take it gracefully and consider it a small sacrifice made in the first step toward a reconciliation—which will surely come to pass after the birth of your first child, if not before.

Send your problem to DOROTHY DIX. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her in care of this newspaper.

Seagulls Rough

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—ONE unit taking part in logistical exercises at Mustang Island has decided Army life is no picnic—not with seagulls around. The 394th Transportation Battalion set up outdoor tables for their meals. Then the gulls began swooping down to snatch the soldiers' chow.

Several mess tents were borrowed from a National Guard outfit and the 394th retreated inside.

They Yell for Elvis

ATILENE, Tex. (AP)—A yelling crowd of 300 persons, aged about 6 to 60, greeted Elvis Presley's Hollywood-bound Pullman car here Tuesday.

One junior high school girl almost got Presley's ring off his finger. He finally placed the ring and a watch in his pocket as the crowd pressed about him.

The youngsters tried to take off his shoes. Presley compromised and gave one girl a shoe lace.

Life's Little Pleasures Can Be Big

By FRANCIS STILEY

NEW YORK (AP)—Life's little pleasures can be pretty big ones too—sometimes.

Like going to the dentist and finding out you don't need any fillings.

Or making out the income tax form and learning there'll be a refund.

Yes, and the time when the checkbook stubs come out just like it says in the bank statement.

One real dandy is to roll over and back to sleep on the morning of your day off.

And there's always the possibility of finding a $10 bill in the street. That one might as well be disregarded, however. Still, I once know a fellow who found $20. Made the mistake of telling his wife, though.

It's a real pleasure to get

THE STORY: Rose Holmes is trying to adjust to the fact that she is a widow. Her husband Mark was killed in a car accident. Steve Jennings is her family doctor.

CHAPTER XVI

When Rose saw Steve before she went to Virginia, he asked, "Do you remember what boot straps are for?"

"Certainly. I keep hauling myself up by them."

"I know. In many ways you're doing it beautifully, but the catch seems to be—unwillingly."

She shrugged. It was true, so why deny it? Leaving the office, she turned to say, "At least I'm grateful that you don't say, 'You've got to get over it.'"

He walked over and put his arm around her shoulders. "You don't want to get over it, do you?" he asked.

"No."

"I don't suppose anyone recovers wholly," he said, "but there's a middle road. Do you cry much?" he asked unexpectedly.

Taken off guard, she stammered, "Not often—just now and then."

"When?"

She answered slowly, "It's always sudden—before I sleep, or waking up in the middle of the night, or when I'm doing something in the kitchen, or just walking downstairs or dusting. Sometimes, outdoors. I'm always alone. It doesn't happen with people around, even if there's music—I seem to be able to brace myself."

"You can brace yourself against music and people," he told her, "but not against yourself." He took his arm away, and as carelessly as if he were saying, "Be sure to drink eight glasses of water a day," he said, "Cry more often."

All winter she had been as numb and, in her body, as unfeeling as the frozen soil.

In all this time she had not dreamed of Mark with clarity. She had asked someone, "Do you ever dream of your mother?"

"Yes, often." So she had asked someone else, "Do you dream of your son?" and the woman had said, "I didn't for almost a year."

She looked at Rose with compassion, a woman Rose scarcely knew, and added, blocked off.

Rose was. At first when she went to bed and swung helplessly in the benign tide the sleeping pills induced, she would think: Perhaps I'll dream. But she shrank from it while longing for it. Better not to dream, perhaps; never to dream again.

Only in the early period had she dreamt of Mark—then twice. The first time she was in a waiting room, or that is what it seemed to be; in a hospital or a depot. She did not know. Other people waited with her. She knew Mark was in another room on the other side of a closed door. She tried to get to him and could not, being immobilized. She sat in the waiting room with strangers and beyond a door which stood open she saw a coffin carried past.

The second time, he was not far away. There was a corridor and he was coming toward her, quiet and tall. She ran to meet him; he put his arms about her. She did not see his face.

Dreaming, Rose never saw Mark's face. Sometimes in the dream her flesh struggled toward completion. It was a white and savage ache. Very rarely was this achieved. Once she woke, sickened and sweating; in another, the only difference was an emptiness.

Rose was not a child. She had had a good, mature physical marriage. She had been brought, at 19, to a warm, loving awakening, to giving and receiving, and awareness. She had known no man save Mark. They had often spoken to each other of their unity, lying quietly in benevolent darkness, feeling themselves more than fortunate.

After 20 years it had still been a wonder, however familiar.

Mark, she would think now—waking alone to darkness no longer benevolent, but that of the tunnel—help me!... Help me to get over this part of it, perhaps, or give me back my winter.

In late June she took Debbie to Renwick Hall. They flew to Washington. It was Debbie's first flight, and she was enchanted by it. Pam, back from South America, drove them to the airport and Pete, when he learned their plans, insisted upon making further arrangements. His brother Sam lived in Washington. There's be a car and driver to meet them and to remain at their disposal.

It's a wfully kind of you, Pete, but please don't bother. "Can't you let me do something, Rose?" His voice was sharp with what sounded like anger: "I worry about you."

Well, his had cause. Rose didn't want his brother's extra car and probably extra driver, but Jaren had come on the wire then and said, "Rose, be a good girl," in such a curiously tired voice that Rose gave in. She said finally, "It's wonderful of you, Pete, and of Sam. Debbie and I appreciate it."

June was full summer in Virginia. They drove to the inn from the airport and registered.

Long after Debbie was asleep Rose lay and watched the moonlight, creeping in with silver stealth.

Spring slipping into summer, into the bull burgeoned beauty, can arouse only resentment.

God, she said, still on her knees in the tunnel, let it be winter again.

Six Mile Creek, Project of Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Six-Mile Creek Watershed Project in Logan and Franklin Counties, Arkansas, is the National Watershed Congress' 1960 Project of the Year.

The award, presented at a banquet last night, cited the program for its excellence service for land treatment on its 164,000-acre watershed which has "with eminent success, met the test of torrential rainstorms and other eliminated or minimized flooding."

Cited for their "high degree of initiative and decision in advancing the project over a period of eight years" were representatives of the Magazine and Franklin County Soil Conservation Districts.

Two L. R. Stores Are Picketed

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Negro youths picketed the Blass and Pfiebers Department stores in downtown Little Rock again today.

Placard-carrying Negroes strolled along the sidewalk in front of the store. The signs protested lunch room segregation.

Picketing of stores has become commonplace and most passersby ignored the demonstrators.

Relations With Cuba Not Improved

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

When President Eisenhower accused Cuba's Castro regime of "betraying" the principles of the Cuban revolution, there was speculation that if this did not lead to a break in relations nothing could.

The break did not occur, but neither did relations improve.

In one sharp note last week, the United States noted that the Cuban government was obtaining arms far in excess of normal needs, and that mounting tension in the Caribbean had accompanied the rise of the Castro regime.

In another, it refused to reinstate a labor leader fired from his job on the U.S. Naval base at Guantanamo on Cuba's eastern tip.

Suggested Talks

None of these actions could be calculated to alter the course of the violent anti-U.S. campaign waged for months by Fidel Castro and his propaganda outlets.

Nonetheless, this week Castro rather mildly suggested that relations between the two countries might be improved if he could talk personally with Eisenhower or Secretary of State Christian Herter.

This suggests that both Castro and the United States are on the horns of a dilemma.

The United States is disturbed both by the Castro regime's economic policies, the wide-scale seizure of properties without compensation, and by Communist infiltration into the Cuban government.

In the latter it finds growing sympathy among other Latin American governments but an equal reluctance to intervene.

The Organization of American States, founded in 1948, would be a natural instrument to bring hemispheric pressure against Cuba, at the same time relieving the United States of any charge of intervention on its own.

But in the south-of-the-border states there so far is no enthusiasm for any such move. One reason is that no Latin American state is ready yet to associate itself with the U.S. in action against Latin American states.

The image of U.S. "big stick" diplomacy still is too fresh. Another reason is that intervention on grounds of Communist infiltration, conceivably could open the door to action against other states.

Four Men Killed in Plane Crash

HICKORY, N.C. (AP)—Four men in a private plane were killed today when their craft collided in flight with a Piedmont Airlines passenger liner near the Hickory airport.

The airliner, carrying 36 persons, landed safely. None aboard was reported hurt.

Spectators said both ships were approaching the field for landings. Papers were scattered about the crashed small plane indicated the occupants were coming to Hickory to attend a furniture show.

Ed Manske of Milwaukee, Wis., a passenger aboard the airliner, en route from Cincinnati to Fayetteville, N. C., said "there was an abrupt jolt with a lot of noise" as the big ship's left wing was struck.

Approval of Water Plan Is Asked

WASHINGTON (AP)—Funds for work of the Arkansas, White and lower Mississippi river would be boosted by a proposal now before a Senate Public Works Subcommittee.

The committee, hearing proposals to authorize construction of about a billion dollars worth of water projects, has been asked by Army Engineers to approve higher authorizations for several river basin projects.

Before the committee is a bill passed by the House last year. It would authorize projects with an estimated cost of 657 million dollars. Some 80 additional projects, to cost more than 450 million dollars, are expected to be presented to the committee in forthcoming hearings.

The Engineers want increases of a billion dollars in river basin authorizations, to carry through June 30, 1963. The House bill would provide 625 million in increases through June 30, 1962.

Authorizations proposed by the Engineers include: Arkansas River flood control $60,000,000; Arkansas River navigation $11,000,000; Upper Mississippi River $12,000,000; White River $50,000,000; Lower Mississippi River and tributaries $220,000,000.

Situation Has Again Reversed

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — When Chuck Connors played big league baseball, other players labeled him as "that actor."

Now that he's successful in movies and TV, other actors label him as "that ballplayer."

Connors can't seem to belong to the right group at the right time. Means the 6-foot-5 ex-first baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers, Chicago Cubs, Montreal Royals and Los Angeles Angels.

Connors, whose confidence is reminiscent of Dizzy Dean's, took me with him to the Los Angeles Dodgers' opener with the Cubs. I asked him if he ever regretted giving up baseball for acting.

"You want the truth?" he answered. "I don't regret it one bit."

"As a ballplayer, I was a good minor leaguer. As an actor, I'm major league—if I can get the other actors to accept me as such."

A few years ago, Connors deserved an Oscar nomination, as best supporting actor for "The Big Country." His portrayal of the mean son of Earl lives in a classic of screen villainy, but he didn't get the nomination.

"Too many actors refused to vote for a ballplayer," he says. When he was offered the starring role in TV's "The Rifleman," Connors confidently predicted that the show would make television's top ten its first season. It did—and it's still there.

"I wouldn't have accepted the role if I hadn't thought so," he says with a little cockiness. For a change of pace, he has a role coming up soon in a big budget epic to be filmed in Europe.

In 1952, he was earning $6,200 a year with the Angels here when he put his priorities to spare time use in the movies.

"I got $500 for the first three days I worked in the movies," recalls Connors. Other parts followed and he doubled his Angel salary in his off time. Now he earns $150,000 or better a year—double what Babe Ruth used to make.

"No," reflects Connors, "I have no regrets about leaving baseball."

Teachers, Pupils Back to Classes

MAHURA, Ga. (AP) — Teachers and pupils went back to classes at Mahura High School today, a paddling controversy settled, and calm restored in this south Georgia farming center.

The return of the 600 pupils, the principal and 32 teachers was in striking contrast to Tuesday's furor over the paddling last week of Earl Cornelius, 14.

The entire faculty resigned, more than 150 pupils staged a demonstration in front of the building chanting, "We want our teachers back" and parents talked about organizing a motorcade to the Lowndes County seat, Valdosta.

The school was closed and the five-man county board of education hurried over from Valdosta, 32 miles away, to hold an emergency meeting.

The board and the teachers solved the problem with the help of school bus driver Elmer Cornelius and his wife, parents of the youth who was paddled.

Heads to Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — Little Stelakis Pattenopoulos continued toward full recovery today.

The 4-year-old Greek boy, brought to America for a delicate life-or-death heart operation Monday, was doing so well that doctors let him hold his first news conference Tuesday.

He received photographers and newsmen in his hospital room and shouted in spirited Greek, "Give me back my balloon," as a photographer blew it up for a picture.

Meacham and Principal A. B. Martin said in a joint statement that the situation had been resolved satisfactorily.

The board assured Martin and the teachers of support in maintaining school discipline. The principal and teachers withdrew their resignations.

"We regret the situation going as far as it did," Meacham said. The settlement was reached after Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius agreed to withdraw warrants alleging the principal and Mrs. Dwight Maples, a teacher, paddled Earl too severely a week ago.

U. S. Shows Concern Over Korea Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States officials expressed concern today lest strife in South Korea tempt Communists north of the 38th Parallel to once again invade that country.

American strategists estimate the Communist army poised in the north is even larger and better equipped than the 50,000-man American and 500,000-man South Korean force below the 38th Parallel which divides North and South Korea.

Dispatches from Korea Tuesday night reported the 15th Korean Division had been released from United Nations control at the government's request and was moving into Seoul to help keep order.

Military men believe, however, that South Korea's internal troubles are causing no direct danger to U.N. forces spread along the armistice line.

Two U.S. Army divisions in Korea include a substantial percentage of South Korean soldiers. In some smaller units South

Labor Chiefs to Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — America's labor chiefs plan a big political powwow to decide their course in the presidential campaign. AFL-CIO Union heads meet in Chicago Aug. 17, the month after the Democratic and Republican nominating conventions. Most union leaders regard it as certain that their 13½-million-member organization will endorse the Democratic choice.

Escape Prosecution

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Fifteen University of Michigan students arrested for taking part in a demonstration against racial discrimination in the South have escaped prosecution.

The city decided Tuesday not to prosecute those arrested Saturday under an ordinance which limits distribution of literature on streets. It said no violation has been established.

The students were picketing stores.

Koreans outnumber Americans. Troops of both countries in the border are controlled by the United Nations commander, Gen. Carter Magruder.

Trading Was Moderate on Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Blue chips sagged as the stock market resumed a slow retreat early this afternoon. Trading was moderate. Key stocks declined from fractions to about 2 points. Scattered gains among selected issues cushioned the decline which was not very sharp on average. Steels, motors, rails, utilities, drugs and electrical equipments took losses. Airlines, mail orders, aircrafts and tobacco showed very little change. The market was irregularly over at the start. An attempt to rally fizzled. Then prices edged off still lower. The mixed nature of first quarter earnings reports continued to cause uncertainty. Technicians noted that the market had failed to pierce a "resistance area" in the vicinity of 636 in the Dow Jones industrial average and may be in the process of "testing" the top of March. American Telephone, which is owned by more shareholder than any other stock, dropped more than a point as the annual meeting convened. DuPont dropped more than 3, apparently in continued reaction to disappointing earnings. General Electric, affected by similar disappointment, fell about 31 Radio Corp. was off around 2. Texas Instruments lost more than a point. Motorola dived about 4 points. Ampex and Beckman Instruments held gains of about a point. Losses of around a point were shown by U.S. Steel, Ford, Chrysler, International Nickel, Eastman Kodak, Westinghouse Electric and Union Carbide. The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 4.38 to 622.02. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down .70 to 214.40 with the industrials down 1.10, the rails down .60 and the utilities down .30. Corporate bonds were lower. U.S. governments made small gains.

Says Plane Shortage May Be Critical

WASHINGTON (AP)—A shortage of the right kinds of transport planes seriously limits the nation's ability to wage limited war in distant areas, U.S. military leaders agreed today. Spokesmen for the Army and Air Force reached this conclusion after studying last month's huge airlift exercise, Operation Big Slam Puerto Rico. In two weeks starting March 14 the Military Air Transport Service flew 21,000 men and 11,000 tons of material to Puerto Rico. A report on the exercise by MATS and the Strategic Army Command was presented today to a House armed services subcommittee which has been studying U.S. airlift capacity. Lt. Gen. William H. Turner, head of MATS, said there is an immediate need for new jet transport planes and specially designed cargo planes. If ordered now he said, they would be ready for use within 18 to 24 months.

Stockholders Have Meets in Spring

By SAM DAWSON
P. Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's more than 12 million stockholders have a sure way of telling it's really spring — annual meetings.

These hardy perennials are now in full bloom across the land, and this year they may set new records in attendance.

For one thing, more stockholders are wandering this spring just what gives—with business in general and their company or companies in particular.

For another, there are more stockholders than ever. Last year's bull market brought many more into the ranks. The break in stock prices earlier this year seems to have caused more not decline in persons holding one or more corporate securities.

And for still another, company managements each year are more given to putting on a good show for the owners, small as their individual holdings may be.

It wasn't always so. In the past, many managements brushed off the curiosity of small stockholders as a waste of time. But many of the crustier old executives have retired, and increasingly all corners are being encouraged, or at least permitted, to ask their questions, make their suggestions, seek the facts.

Company officials get a good workout these days. Some train for the annual meeting days in advance. Many are coached on department, delivery, and on what to watch for.

This is the season of accounting. Top executives report on how things have been going—sales, profits, operating costs.

In most cases they face questioning from the floor—with stockholder interest usually strongest on the subject of chances for dividend changes or stock splits.

This is also the season for predictions—or for revision of the earlier ones. Often the annual meeting is the occasion for announcing new products, or expansion plans.

Many companies now use their annual meetings as a chance to show stockholders around the plant or to demonstrate the new equipment bought with earnings that weren't divided up as dividends.

For many stockholders the annual meeting is looked upon as an outing. The presence or absence of a free lunch, and its quality if provided, come in for greatest discussion.

The practice of splitting up stockholder meetings and holding them in many sections of the nation, either simultaneously or in rotation, is growing. That is in recognition of the spread of stock ownership into all parts of the land as against the old notion that only Wall Street counted.

But not all annual meetings are just big funfests.

Bitter proxy fights often turn them into Donnybrooks. Some of these fights have been front-page news for weeks in advance. Some finally find their way into the courts.

It's the stockholder's big season all right, whether it's a love feast or a dog fight that awaits him.

Wadsworth to Explain Test Role

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee decides today whether to ask Ambassador James J. Wadsworth to explain his role in the Geneva nuclear test ban talks.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) asked that such an invitation be extended, declaring that Wadsworth had joined in a statement with the Soviet delegation at Geneva which "misled the American people."

The committee agreed to meet briefly in closed session to vote on the Wadsworth invitation before resuming its public hearings on scientific problems involved in the proposed test ban.

Gore said at the first day's hearings Tuesday that the statement in which Wadsworth joined last month gave the impression the Soviet Union had fully accepted the U.S. February test ban proposal. This was not the case, the Tennesseean contended.

The senator also told newsmen after the hearings that "the administration's own scientists have given a devastating indictment of the administration proposal."

Gore declined to say whether he opposed the test ban treaty President Eisenhower is seeking.

Miss Liberty

NEW YORK (AP)—They're going to dress up Miss Liberty for that big global social, the 1963-65 New York World's Fair.

A schedule was outlined Tuesday night for rehabilitation of the Statue of Liberty, Grant's Tomb, Federal Hall where George Washington was inaugurated and Castle Clinton in Battery Park, which helped defend the city from the British fleet in 1812.

Nehru, Chou Get Down to Border Issue

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Prime Minister Nehru and Red China's Chou En-lai got down to business today on their disputed Himalayan borders. The two met for the first of six days of talks amid general skepticism that the negotiations will provide much of an advance toward agreement.

Since his arrival Tuesday, Chou has appeared tense and a bit apprehensive about his reception in a country angered at what it considers Chinese aggression.

Chou of New Delhi's newspapers underlined the somber reception for the Chinese Premier on his arrival. Nehru himself set the tone with a declaration in his welcoming remarks that India's relation with Communist China "have been imported for the present and future."

After laying a wreath at the shrine of Mohandas K. Gandhi and a call on Indian President Rajendra Prasad, Chou came to Nehru's official residence for their first talk. They will meet twice a day through Monday.

The two leaders brought diametrically opposed views of the border question to the discussions. China claims the entire 2,500-mile border between the two countries is "undefined" and "should be negotiated." India insists the border

West Assures Negro Group at Nashville

By HENRY S. BRADSHAW

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—A mass Negro demonstration, touched off by an explosion which wrecked a Negro city councilman's home, ended Tuesday with Mayor Ben West's affirmation that he favors desegregation of all white eating facilities.

West told a group of about 8,000 Negroes who marched on City Hall he thought it was wrong to discriminate against anyone.

The mayor agreed with the Negro students that lunch counters and other eating facilities should be desegregated but added it would be a matter for the courts.

It is well known on the basis of history, tradition and usage and needs only minor adjustments.

Under dispute are 51,000 square miles of territory—about the size of England. Chinese troops control 12,000 square miles of it.

Chou was wearing the tense expression he has displayed since his arrival here from Rangoon when he showed up for the meeting with Nehru. But he smiled and laughed a little for photographers when Nehru turned on his affable charm.

A joint communique is expected at the conclusion of the talks April 25. No news conferences have been scheduled.

charlie to decide. "I cannot tell a businessman how to run his business," he said.

A bitter debate between West and a Negro minister, the Rev. C. T. Vivian, preceded his remarks.

Vivian read a prepared statement which charged West with lack of decision and not using the moral weight of his office in the racial conflict.

The demonstration began shortly after the home of Negro city Councilman Z. Alexander Looby was shattered by an explosion.

Looby and his wife, asleep in a back bedroom, escaped injury.

Looby, 62, a life member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, has represented scores of Negro students arrested in connection with sit-in demonstrations.

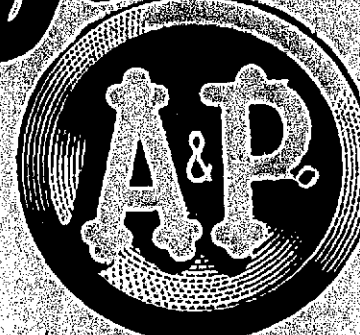

The City Council, at the request of West, has offered a $10,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the persons who bombed the home.

Agents of the Tennessee Bureau of Identification have joined the Nashville police force in the investigation.

Potent Vaccine
NEW YORK (AP)—Scientists are testing a new, more potent Salk vaccine that cuts the immunization dosage by two-thirds. The National Foundation announced Tuesday two shots of 1/2 a cubic centimeter each are expected to be as effective as the old dosage of three shots of one c.c. each.
